

NON DESTRUCTIVE TESTING

The Nondestructive Testing (NDT) program is a cooperative effort between WSU Tech and National Institute for Aviation Research (NIAR). The AAS program is a sequence of courses designed to produce a technician who understands NDT's role in the aerospace industry, mastered the American Society for Nondestructive Testing's coursework for Levels I and II cert and has the depth of knowledge from general education courses. Students will complete Levels I and II ASNT competencies for six NDT methods including liquid penetrant, ultrasonic, eddy current, visual, radiography and magnetic particle inspection. Students will have hands-on experience in conventional and composite aerospace assembly methods, allowing them to apply NDT techniques to the aviation industry.
